History of Treverva and Lamanva 3

In the past, when rates were paid to the Parish Church for the upkeep of the parish, the people of this far corner of Budock paid their share and their names are to be found in the old account books. They would have made the long, rough journey to Budock Church every Sunday as well as for marriages and christenings, and the dead would have been taken through narrow, rocky lanes by farm cart or hand bier, the coffin often resting on one of the stone slabs known as 'coffin rests' still to be found beside stiles or gateways.

There was once a footpath beside the old smithy at Treverva, leading across the fields to the pillared gates of Trewoon and thence through the farm to the quarry. This lane continued behind Tresooth, to join the present road to Mawnan Smith and Budock Water, and was known as Gypsy Lane. It can still be seen, although overgrown, and may well have been an important road, especially if it linked with another old track passing through Crill and Trewen to enter Budock Water opposite the Trelowarren Arms. It would have been a shorter route to the church than the present road.

Save the Children - The 'pop up Christmas Shop' in the porch of Shalom was once again a great success. £238 was raised from sales and with some very generous donations, including £66 from the Treverva village Hall quiz night, a total of £554 was raised.

Our local branch has been raising funds for the Charity for almost 50 years and this year raised over £20,000 from the local area.

This year Save the Children celebrates its Centenary Anniversary and continues to work for the interests of children both here and abroad.

The branch runs a very successful shop in Constantine, and throughout the year a series of events - walks, coffee mornings garden openings - all very enjoyable as excellent tea and cake is always available! All events are well advertised - so do come along if you can.

A large selection of village tea towels, all occasion cards, bunting and craft items are available to buy all year round from Gilly Bennett at Shalom (340779).

Thank you once again for your support, as always, very much appreciated.

Lois, the Clerk of the Budock Parish Council, will be retiring at the end of March and will be very much missed by members of the council and parishioners for whom she has been the first point of contact. Her post will become vacant and details of the job will appear on the Budock Parish website.

The Neighbourhood Plan - The development of Budock Parish is progressing. Since the completion of the questionnaires and the consultation events we held last year the volunteers in the NDP Steering Group have been working hard to develop the drafts of the policies which will form the basis of our Plan.

To do this we have pulled together the responses you gave us in the Questionnaire, Local Landscape Character Assessments and consultation events together with the over-arching policies contained in the Cornwall Local Plan. All this has been done in close liaison with an officer from Cornwall Council Planning Dept. Once the Plan is at the final stage which we anticipate will be in the Summer there will be further consultation events. In the meantime the draft policies will be uploaded to the Neighbourhood Plan website for comment: <http://www.budockplan.co.uk>
